A State Tax.

There might be many things of more mischievous consequences to the state of Vermont than a direct state tax upon its people, as is now half threatened by the chairman of the house committee on ways and means, Representative Allen M. Fletcher of Cavendish, an experienced financier and a veteran legislator.

Vermonters are only trying to fool themselves with an economic delusion, when they persist in substituting for the bugaboo of a direct state tax a tax upon corporations, for instance, and the various other indirect and round-about devices for raising money to support the government that are similar to it. The corporation tax is not a corporation tax at all. It is paid by the people, and paid over to the state by the corporations that collect it. When the state imposes a tax upon a corporation, the corporation imposes a rate upon the people that includes the tax and the customary margin of profit, beside.

When we arouse to the keener and more general appreciation of this matter-of-fact common sense, we shall begin to realize that, in the long run, a direct state tax makes for greater economy—because—

When the people have to dig down into their own pockets to pay a tax, they take more direct and personal pains to find out where the money goes.—St. Albans Messenger.

MUCH GAINED AT LITTLE COST.
Dr. Minor Appeals to Public to Buy Red Cross Seals.

To those who have faith in the future of our country and in the success of the experiment in civil government which was begun in these United States in 1776, there are few more encouraging things than the increasing altruism of our citizens shown by the increasing interest which they take in the many movements which, while they promise them no personal advantage, aim to improve the race by helping to lessen sickness and poverty and suffering in their less fortunate brothers. Of such movements there are few which can so justly appeal to all of us as does the Red Cross Christmas seal movement, which annually gathers from the kind hearts in our midst during the Christmas season money wherewith to lighten the terrible burden of suffering around us.

Of all the causes of suffering in this world, there is none that can vie with tuberculosis, which yearly claims a seventh of all those who cross to the other side; and, moreover, reduces to beggary, and too often to crime, the many who are dependent upon these sick workers for their support. Therefore, it seems to me that it should only be necessary to call this splendid charity to the attention of our citizens in order to have it well supported, and to guarantee that everyone during the glad Christmas season, when all hearts are softened and pulse strings loosened, will take the trouble to remember it, and in the midst of their happiness to remember also the happiness of the many who are less fortunate than they. It will only demand of us all a little forethought, a little trouble and a trifling expense, and so generous a people as ours will not allow an appeal for such a charity to fall on closed ears. Let us all, then, make this Christmas notable by remembering the Red Cross seal and by taking pains to see that one such is affixed to every present we send to those we love and to every letter that goes carrying words of good cheer to our friends.

Dr. Charles L. Minor—Boston Herald.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.

New Catalogue Shows An Increase In Enrollment—Distribution of Students.

The annual Dartmouth college catalogue has made its appearance. There are several important changes in the makeup of the publication from that of last year although the general form is the same. The registration recorded in the catalogue shows that there are 1,229 students in the college this year against 1,197 of last year. Massachusetts still leads with the largest number of students. Four hundred and eighty-one men come from the Bay state. There is more than 100 per cent. increase in the number of western men, 145 against 90 last year. The New England states show a decrease from 832 to 787. This is, however, more than offset by other eastern states, who sent 297 men this year, 74 more than attended Dartmouth in the season of 1909-1910. The southern states have eleven men here both years. Hereafter the English entrance examinations will be divided into two parts, grammar and composition, and literature. It has been found that the estimates of expenses published in previous catalogues do not conform with the increased cost of living, and so the new catalogue adds $18 to the conservative and $33 to the liberal estimate of the cost of board.

Among the new scholarship and prizes appears those of George P. Russell, Mary M. Stickney, and A. L. Williams. The Chicago Alumni association has offered a prize to the Illinois student who presents the best scholarship, engaging at the same time in college activities, during his freshman year. The Smith prizes, Josiah Webster Pillsbury loan fund, and the Tucker Alumni fund scholarships have been withdrawn.

The Income Tax Danger.

The lower house of the Massachusetts legislature is pretty sure to vote in favor of the income tax amendment to the federal constitution for which the governor-elect is so earnest. In the Senate the battle will come in dead earnest, and from present indications with the prospects slightly in favor of the opposition.

The fourteen Democrats will doubtless vote for the amendment. Three of the Republican members of the new Senate voted for the amendment last year, and are unlikely to change their position now. Mr. Gates of Westboro, one of the new men, announces his purpose to support it, bringing the affirmative total to eighteen out of forty. Mr. Schoonmaker of Ware confesses himself as so perplexed that he is attentively reading all the literature of the subject on which he can lay hand. Mr. Nash of Hanover was absent on roll-call last year. Here is, therefore, material for an exceedingly close contest, the result of which will probably depend on the course of events in other states. If the tide seems to be running for the amendment, making its eventual ratification a foregone conclusion, that influence would doubtless suffice to turn the scale in its favor here.

The whole process of constitution making is jug-handled. Massachusetts last year rejected this amendment. Why should not that rejection stand? Instead, the question may seemingly be voted on year after year until affirmative action is taken, and then the issue will be closed for good, according to the decisions in the Ohio and New Jersey cases at the time of the Civil war amendments. This proposed change in organic law would prove highly disadvantageous to Massachusetts; its people would pay a disproportionately large part of the total receipts under the levy. The effect on members of Congress—already extravagant enough—of knowing that they can appropriate money which comes out of a particular class in the community, and to a considerable degree out of a few populous states, cannot fail to be most unfortunate.
